

Happy New Year January 2026

♥♥ Lasting Love ♥♥

The love candle glowed late on Dec. 21st, 2025. I'll not forget that morning of precious miraculous memories! By afternoon unplanned circumstances prompted the cancelling of our women's fire. Gratefully, two precious ladies who didn't receive the notice came and love "lit" the room! That's how God works! The ENEMY tried--but FAILED!

Love. The center of it ALL. ♥

Christmas in K.C. with the "kids", a son's birthday, my first granddaughter movie date (I highly recommend "David"), time with family & friends, and a week of fun and faith with a blogging friend have only proven this: love will last longer than any present received under the tree at Christmas! It's a new year and time for new beginnings! The love I have in CHRIST (and Christ IN ME) will continue to last---through eternity! I pray that each of you comes to know this love! It's a love like no other! A lasting love!

SOON

Do you follow Christ and his teachings?
What's the difference between the OLD and NEW Covenant? Why does it matter as a Christ follower? I'll be sharing soon! Also, I'm so excited to share the latest interview with Tim Denney (www.withoutlimit.org; originally 1Pursuit.org) Hear how his decade with the Quakers in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho impacted his walk in Christ! Also, I have a nature poem, co-written with my cousin, Sagan Wilson, to share! I can't wait to see YOU at YOUR place, too!

Do you know how loved you are?

Heavenly Hibernation

THANK YOU, GOD, for another year! Winters used to cause dread. The last few have grown my love for the quiet and serenity of this season. Forced time inside created a new perspective on "hibernation." Instead of hard, they've been heartfelt. Rather than humdrum, they've been hopeful! We ALL need seasons to "be." Rest is good for the body, soul, and mind. By surrendering to my Savior, the season will supply all I need.

Oh, what a heavenly hibernation!

Finley and I are so grateful for all of you! Thank you for your love & support!

you are so
